FORBO FLOORING

Forbo Flooring Systems has launched Step, a new range of safety vinyl flooring with an emphasis on good design. Meeting HSE requirements for slip resistance, the Step is far removed from traditional safety flooring, with a wide choice of inspiring colours, textures and finishes including wood and stone effect and holographic chip. Available in a range of 72 colours with design freedom further facilitated by non-directional patterns, the capability to incorporate bespoke designs and logos, and the use of bright colours for optimum visual impact.

BLUELARIX

Snooc is a wireless hair-straightener with automotive styling, improved interaction and features an innovative charging system connecting both body parts of the product. Specifically for the target group of 25 to 35 years where there is a need for high quality personal care products such as hair-straighteners. Snooc's high quality materials and design is aimed at people that feel young and mobile, and follow the latest trends. Instead of looking conservative and similar to other products on the market, it has a simple interface and ergonomic form.

VERITAS

Veritas is a versatile, decorative resin panel that can be customised to suit any environment, style or colour scheme. It is more durable than acrylic, and offers limitless possibilities for retail units, restaurants, offices and hotels, plus domestic projects where it can be used creatively for walls, kitchen cupboards, bedroom furniture, bathrooms and shower doors. Veritas, which is recyclable, comes in a group of 20 stock patterns or can be customised with any digital image.

ANTRON

Cartography is a range from Mannington Commercial that is inspired by nature and utilises the attributes of Invista's Antron carpet fibre to deliver designs that look good for a long time. Three designs - Landmark, Provenance and Terrain - comprise the collection, blending sophisticated style with the performance of solution-dyed Antron Lumena carpet fibre and the recycled content of the Infinity RE backing system. With a palette of sixteen geographically inspired tones, ranging from beach and vicinity to realm and mainland, Cartography's patterns interplay to create three distinct entities linked by colour, meaning that shade can remain while style changes from area to area.

DESTILAT

Grandma is a side table, a mirrored cube with a number of diverse facets - at the push of a button the past can be relived. Grandma is an ironic commentary, a loving reminder of tea and burnt cake at grandma's place. Lace is juxtaposed with contemporary glass and the irony becomes apparent when the light is switched on and the pattern appears. Grandma is part of a range of mirrored cubes with the same feature, which are composed of mitre cut, precisely joined, mirrored glass tabletops. The construction and surfaces are stark with the cut-out ornament only visible when the light goes on.
